HALIFAX, June 17 .- The Westmeath steamer with North America by cable, arrived here There was a slight hitch with the military for landing the shore end of the cable owing going into the harbor of Hamilton is protected, but this was finally satisfactorily arranged. The office of the company being in the town of Hamilton, ten miles of heavy cable was laid, so as to connect with the cable that will be situated at Castle Islands. The work of sounding was commenced in shallow water off Bermuda into deep water 1,200 fathoms. The bottom is found to be very smooth and soft. The steamer completed the line of soundings commenced by the British war ship Challenger, on her memor across to the edge of the Lahave bank off Halifax. The soundings were taken until within 100 miles of here. With the exception of the extreme softness in places, good bot-som was found over the whole course. The maximum reached was 2,830 fathoms, and the will be laid in an almost straight line with the exception of a slight curve it will have to take Her Majesty's lumber yard at the south end of the city and directly alongside of where the cable of the direct United States Co. is landed. England. LONDON, June 17 .- The Prince of Wales has written a letter to a committee of gentleme who have favorably considered the idea of holding an international exhibition in London, expressing with force and directness his views on the subject. It would be highly in-expedient, the Prince writes, to held an exhibition of an international character in Londor at any time before 1900. While such exhibiions are eminently desirable, for obvious reasons he believes they are divested of muci of their importance by too frequent occurrence. A HERO'S DEATH.

At their call for help a young man named David Hayes, headless of his own danger jumped into the drift in the rushing water to warn the men of their danger. He carried a blazing miners' lamp in his hand THE WESTPHALIA MINERS.

DESPER THAN EVER REPORE.

The fight for the dead was kept up by the living all night, but the early gray of morning only found the resouling party driven farther back from the death chambers, and they bould not penetrate within 500 feet of she place they had reached last night. Early shis morning Martin Markey, pit boas of the Anchor mines, made a darling attempt to reach the right driftings of the Hill Farm mines from the Mehoney entrance, one and one-half miles away scross the hills. He crawled over drifts and walls to within 100 yards of the fatal chambers and sounded again and again, but listened for a response in valu. The men were either sorothered or were rectaining the fire that was now steadily excroaching on their territory and Markey, sat and bruised, abandoned the hopeless quest of seeking an answer from 100 yards of solid dumb slate. The sight at the pit's mouth is all the more pitiable because of the twenty-four hours of anguish that has rolled over the heads of the relatives and friends of the entombed miners, and hundreds stand steadily at the mouth gazing wreichedly at the black columns of smoke that seem to grow thicker awary hour, indicating that the coal was now burning instead of timber and roofing. Orles for volunteers to relieve the workers were constant and responses came before the sentence had been finished, for there were no idiers. mine will be put in operation this afternoon in the Ferguson pit, as work will also be commenced there.

There seemed to be many views as to the cause of the fire and the proper place, if any, for placing the blame. Coroner Holbrook has appointed three miners and two citizens on the jury. He placed the miners there because they were the greatest sufferers and because they wanted a show if the remedy could be applied. The mine is co located that flooding the fire is impossible, and smothering it means certain death to the men below, providing any are living. Nearly all the mines in this region are closing down and men, money and provisions are pouring in on every train. A resouling party has just appeared at the mouth of the Ferguson mine and report the chambers of that drift rapidly filling with smoke. This delays, if it does not entirely cut off all hopes of reaching the imprisoned men from that sider. Some slight hope was raised at noon by the return of Waiter McCleary, one of the rescaing party, who reported that far down in the slope he heard a mule braying as if in great distress. This leads to the belief that the men may be living. Great crowds are arriving on every train and flocking to the scene of the disaster.

THE LIST OF STARTERS as made up this morning included the famous Haggin pair, Salvator and Firenzi; the almost equally noted Belmont pair, Raceland and Prince Royal, and Mr. Puisifer's renowned little flyer Tenny, while the Dwyers put their confidence in Longstreet, and the Western delegations looked to see Proctor Knost and English Lady do something startling. Lazeland sent to the post his ill-tempered Tes Tray. Strideaway, who ran a good race yesterday, defeating Badge, Tea Tray and others at a mile, was expected to run. Strideaway is much better at a mile than at a mile and a quarter. Loantaka, who has shown wonderful form, but about whose ability to travel a mile and a quarter there were conflicting opinions, was also in the race. Their Graminations attracted the attention of the Government, and the officials become greatly interested, as is proved by the fact that Mr. Thomson yesterday received a letter in reference to the matter from King Kalakaua himself. The letter is as follows:

There is a species of the figure elastica growing here, but whether it is of commercial value I have not the least idea. There are other species of the same genra, such as the figure religious and flous indica, and grows here with prolific profusion. The artocarpos incisa or the common bread fruit probably belongs to the same class, but perhaps of a very poor and inferior material for the extraction of the gum necessary for the production of a valuable commercial product. And I have never known it to be tested by scientific analysis. public form shook none of it off. So the Belmont stable has a sturdy army of supporters at its back who did not fear even Salvator, Firenzi or Tenny, In all the up-town hotels, in all the resorts where turimen go, the one topic of eager comment all morning was the problem of superiority in the Suburban. The great majority of turimen here are firm in the faith that the fullsh would be confined to five at the best. These are Salvator, Firenzi, Tenny, Raceiand and Prince Royal. If the Dwyer stable had been in better luck this year, Longstreet would have had a greater number of admirers. But ill-fortune has been constantly vindictive against the Dwyers, so that few were bold enough to think that Longstreet would win. The Dwyers themselves always said that Longstreet would have no chance except on a dry track.

The License Campaign in Maine.

BANGOR, Me., June 17 .- The dissatisfaction among the Democrats owing to the refusal of the Democratic State Convention to adopt a license plank in its platform has culminated in a movement to call a State convention and bominate a candidate for Governor. A call is being circulated inviting all who believe that the present prohibitory law is a failure and should be superceded by local option, to meet in mass convention, July 15. It is said a number of Republicans and Democaats are in the movement to start the ball rolling for a license campaign, and it is thought the movement will be pushed and the convention held.

Such horses as Loantaka and Cassius could never afford to lie back for a yard. Experts deciared that if Frince Royal went out with them, he would kill both, or any of the other horses except the famous four-Raceland, Salvator, Firenzi and Tenny-in the first mile. Possibly Longstreet might be in the vicinity at the head of the home stretch, but that was doubtful. On carefully considering the circumstances bearing on the situation, the talent seemed to think that Raceland, Ealvator, Firenzi and Teany would settle the first money between them on the track, and that they would make one of the closest finishes ever seen on a New York course. with murder in the second degree. THOUSANDS ON THE GROUNDS.

SHERFHEAD BAY RACE TRACE, Noon.—
Crowds of people have flocked to the grounds to witness what promises to be one of the grandest races ever run on the American turf. It is cloudy and at this hour it seems that rain may fail before the race, which is the fourth on the card. The track is in perfect condition, and if the stories told in the paddock are true the record for a mile and a quarter may be broken. Sixteen horses are yet named as starters in the big event, but it is not likely that either of the Scoggan brothers horses, Froctor Knott and English Lady, will run, as both are unit. THE CONDITION OF THE TRACK was an all-important question. Supt. Clark telegraphed to this city from the course last night that the track was in fine condition as it would be in at any time this meeting, and that if no rain fell before the race, the Surbuban of 1890 would be even faster than any of its predecessors. But Mr. Clark is always extremely sanguine. It was impossible to believe that after the rains of the last few days the track can fall to be a little heavy and sticky at best. Mr. Clark is a competent judge of such matters, but it is not remarkable that on the eve of the Suburban, he sheuld look at everything connected with the course through the rosiest of radiant speciacles. Horsemen did not believe that the track mould suit Longstreet. On any track, indeed, I doubt his ability to get a place against Raceland, Tenny, Salvator or Firenzi in the present condition of these four Borses. Of all the horses Tenny and Prince Royal were.

Washington, D. C., June 17.—The friends of John T. Musick of Kirkeville, Mo., who is an aspirant for the Siam Minister's place, called at the State Department again this morning in behalf of Mr. Musick. While Gen. Haldemas of Topeka stated that he was not a candidate for the place, it is accepted by some of his Iriends that the place will be tendered him again. Gen. Haldeman held the position ten or twelve years, and for a time under President Cleveland. When his term was out be retired with the high appreciation of the State Department and the President. Gen.

A good story is told of Editor Gilchrist of the Chillicothe (Mo.). Constitution, who has been here for a day or two, looking after "pork." He is about as wealthy, it is said, as the average country editor and equally as clever and important when off on a trip. Arriving in Washington he was driven to the Arlington and assigned pleasant quarters. Brushed, shaved and cleaned up, he sought out some of his Missouri friends who were enjoying good meals and stopping in 61 a day travern. His friends questioned his "flushness" and induced him to leave the big Arlington, where he had calculated on an editor called for his satchel and bill at the same time. The bill read, "One day's board and lodging, $7." He dropped his satchel, went down deep into his pockets and settled. After recovering from the $7 stroke Editor Gliebrist sought consolation in the fact that it was but a single day he had stopped with the big buys.

centric sisters whose large fortunes have been coveted by the titled gentry of Europe, and the Baron Von Zedwitz, German Minister to Mexico, took place this morning in the chape connected with the new Catholic University which has been largely built by the munificent gifts of the Caldwell sisters. The avent, though a notable one, has not stirred society to its depths, for the young ladies have not been a part of the social structure here. They have spent most of their adult years in Europe and have few friends among society people in Washington. The Baron came up from Mexico on Friday and took apartments at Welcker's and the Misses Caldwell, with their aunt and cousin, Mrs. E. O. Donnelly and Miss Donnelly, came over from New York Sunday and took quarters at the Arlington. The wedding arrangements have all been conducted by Miss Gwendolin Caldwell and Mrs. Donnelly and are very simple in character. Less than fifty invitations were issued, verbally, to the chapel and to the wedding breakfast at noon at the Arlington.

The main chapel of the University, where the wedding took place, was built out of a donation of $50,000 made by the bride of today for that purpose. The interior of the chapel was decorated with the conventional palms and evergreens, bride roses and twining plants. The after with its bright candelabra shone forth against a background of green and gave an air of grandeur to the simplicity of the other parts of the chapel. There was little formality about the scene other than the girn by the impressiveness of the grandlans, walked to the alter, where she was mot by the groom and his best man, Baron Speak you Sternberg of the German Legation at Washington. CATHOLIC DIOCESES CONSOLIDATED. Rt. Rev. Bishop Burke of Cheyenne Made Bishop of Omaha, Neb., Also.

The Catholic dioceses of Omaha and Cheyenne have been consolidated and Bisnop Burke of Cheyenne placed at the head of the new diocese thus created. This information was received to-day in a cablegram from new diocese thus created. This information was received to-day in a cablegram from Rome. It was communicated to many of the clerry at once, and occasioned great surprise. The consolidation of the two dioceses was totally unexpected, and the appointment of Bishop Burke unlooked for. The cablegram gave no further information than the mere announcement of the two above facts.

The appeintment was generally considered by the clerry to be a Roman appointment. That is to say the impression prevailed that the recommendation of the bishops of the St. Louis arch diocese had been ignored. The bishops, it will be remembered, met in this city at Archbishop Kenrick's residence about two months ago and sent in three names to Rome. The prelate who received the distinction of dignismus at their hands was never positively known, but it was generally believed that Vicar General Brady had been accorded the honor. Probably the principal reasons which the local clergymen have for considering Bishop Burke's selection a Roman appointment are that he was a graduate of the Roman College, and is in Rome at present. Although the cablegram does not so state it is simost certain that the see of the new diocese will be at Omahs. That city it has been predicted for some time would soon be made the see of a mew archdiocese, as the St. Louis diocese is now by far toe extensive. It was in view of this approaching necessity for a division, most probably, that a Bishop was appointed to take charge of the new diocese, as it would hardly be in accordance with Catholic precedent to elevate a priest to the Bishoppic, and then make him an Archbishop a few years afterward. Bishop hunk's appointment is looked on as sesuring to him the elevation to the Archbishopic in a few years.

No Call Made Upon the Governor for

BOONVILLE, Mo., June 17.—Yesterday after-noon about 6 o'clock a dispatch was received here stating the State troops had been called out at Sedalia by the Governor, and would arrive here on the 7:40 p. m. train. This caused more indignation than the lynching of the Sheriff's murderer would have done, all citizens branding it as simply an outrage, as Gov. Francis had no request for troops from either the city or county officials, and had never asked the acting sheriff or the Mayor of the city for information on the subject. The citizens believe themselves to be able to maintain the law in this county without the assistance of the militia from other counties, and they feel indignant that the Governor or anyone else should have published to the world that outsiders were necessary to preserve order in this sown and county. Everything is quiet here. There is not now mor has there been any danger or fear but what the county and city officials, with the assistance of the people, would be able to maintain peace and order in this community. out at Sedalla by the Governor, and would

THE discovery that the census authorities have sense enough to recognize their own blunder is reassuring.

ALL the people of Philadelphia seem to have been caught by the census enumerators; but it is an easy matter to catch people who never move.

THE enumeration of every person in the United States is a constitutional duty of another blunder in the line he has laid the greatest importance. No petty re- down for himself by the refusal of the strictions should interfere with the thor- Council to confirm the appointment of oughness of the work.

THE investigation of the census situation in this city and the protest of the SUNDAY POST-DISPATCH against its incompleteness were made exactly in time to cause the authorities to take the proper steps to rectify it.

OPPORTUNITY has been given Maj. WEIGEL and his force of census enumerators to do their whole duty by securing a full count of the St. Louis people, and they should be held to strict accountability for the doing of it.

CENSUS SUPT. PORTER started in wrong, but his resolve to have a complete census if it takes all summer, shows that he is getting back on the right track. Neither time nor expense should be allowed to stand in the way of a thorough count of Indications point to the conclusion that the determination of the Council to have no one except a civil engineer is as firm as the Mayor's determination to have anyone except a civil engineer. And the determination of the Council is backed by the people.

UNRESTRICTED time having been given for the completion of the census, all information concerning errors and failures to list citizens is valuable for correcting the returns. The Post-Disparch will place the information sent to it where it

SECRETARY BLAINE saved his party from a fatal mistake by defeating the force bill when he was Speaker of the House. His warning against the passage of the Federal election bill is based on the same reasoning which led him to oppose the other measure. The danger of the one is equal to that of the other.

THE latest reported compromise on the silver question is a bill amending the Bland law so as to require the coining of 4,500,000 silver dollars per month. Such a measure would be far more likely to pass both houses and be passed by a twothirds vote over the veto than any bullion purchase bill stopping the coinage of ilver. It would not be free coinage, but it would convert the entire output of our silver mines into legal tender dollars, and to that extent help the market for silver

THE Mayor and the contractors do not want a civil engineer in the office of Street Commissioner. But the Board of Public Improvements, the Democratic President of that board, and the people want the office filled, as it has been in the past, with a civil engineer of high standing in his profession. Now, if the Council also takes a firm stand against the Mayor's highly eccentric attitude he will prove himself not only a very stubborn but a very stupid man if he refuses to

THE change of venue law passed by the last Legislature and approved by the present Governor of Missouri is a disgrace to them and to the State. But it is to be hoped that the excited people of Cooper County will not regard the existence of that statute as a reason for lynching the murderers of their Sheriff. Both are in jail and the evidence against them is so strong that no change of venue can save them from the extreme penalty of the law. No Missouri jury will acquit them and their punishment by due course of law will have a more wholesome effect than the lynching of a dozen criminals.

KANSAS CITY, St. Paul and Minneapolis are raving over the failure of the census enumeration. Each one of them declares that the names of 50,000 residents have been omitted. Other large cities are making similar complaints. It is a foregone conclusion that the census is to be a failure and its authority disputed. Doubtless a majority of the cities will demand a econd enumeration. Congress is in session and might provide for a plain, simple enumeration of population in cities with reference to age, sex, nativity, etc., leaving the other statistics to be obtained subsequently. An accurate enumeration is the most important thing in the census, because representation is based on it for ten years and legislation proceeds with constant reference to it.

There is a strong probability that the Mayor will be given a chance to commit another blunder in the line he has laid down for himself by the refusal of the Council to confirm the appointment of Lohrum as Street Commissioner. The objections urged against the appointment by the refusal of the confirm the appointment of Lohrum as Street Commissioner. The objections urged against the appointment that a decision yesterday in the case of Martin Nelser vs. Emil Thomas to determine which of them is rightfully entitled to discharge the duties of City Marshal in St. Louis. There was also much regret expressed that the Rogers case had not been decided, as a decision would have practically ended the present complications in the School Board. Both cases now go over to the next meeting of the court, which takes place on June 30. It is not, however, certain that by the Post-Dispatch that Lohrum has no special fitness for the office, that he is not a civil engineer, that he is a politician and contractor, and that being a decision in the cases will be reached even by that time. Under a new in the Supreme Court is compelled to take up and dispose of cases in their turn, and when the Neiser case was taken under advisement the judges informed the attorneys that there was a large number of cases on the docket ahead of it. contractor the spirit if not the letter of a charter provision was violated in his nomination seem to have proper weight with the Councilmen. The Council may depend upon the hearty support of citizens in a determination to secure only a good man and a civil engineer for that office.

who is to be the next Supreme Judge of Missouri, the politicians are now discussing what esuits will come from Judge Gantt's election allied to Judges Bruce and Black, and that in the matter of appointments these three will agree, and consequently have the power to fill the offices within the gift of the court. This means that Henry Ewing, the present brarian, will be retained. By many the can-Judge is believed to have been for the sole purpose of keeping his cousin in the office which he now holds. He never had any show ning, and it is the opinion of many of the he could command in the convention was to Judge Gantt whenever it would insure his garded in very much the same light. It is a trite old saying that a man can never see be-fore fike he can see behind, and now that some of the wiseacres believe that McFarlane purpose but to assist that in getting the nomination. They are further inclined to the opinion there is an understanding that McFarlane is to be brought out by the same forces as nominated Gantt, against Sherwood two years from now. As four of the Judges after Judge Gantt's election will be from that section of the State which is south of the river, it is conceded that the next Judge Will come from north of the river. Judge Sherwood having had two terms it is thought by his opponents that he can be retired, and to beat him McFarlane will come out again, and the Ewing cohorts will bring out Judge John Smith of the Court of Appeals in Kaness City. With McFarlane and Smith both in the race it is hoped that the country north of the river can be divided against Sherwood and that the nomination of either of them can be forced upon the rest of the State. To use a race course expression, McFarlane, it is the general opinion, will be out to win, and Judge Smith will simply make the running for him. Of course if it should be demonstrated that McFarlane could not win then Smith will be taken up and pushed to the front.

JASPER BURKES FOR SENATOR.

Another consequence of the nominations made by the State convention will be, so it is claimed, the removal of Jasper Burks from the position of Chief Grain Inspector. Burks received his appointment from Downing and Hennessy, Breathlit being ignored in the selection. Now it is said that Hickman, who is to succeed Downing, will vote with Breathlit and that they will both be against Burks. Jasper himself is said to anticipate what is in store for him, and is aiready preparing for the future. He has announced himself as a candidate for State Senator in Senator Smith's district. Senator Smith will not be a candidate for re-election, having removed to Paris, Tex., where he is now practicing law. Who Breathitt and Hickman will favor for Burks' place is not known, but their choice

There has been a great deal of talk since the convention to the effect that Martin L. Clardy in his speech for Judge Thomas did a great deal towards having himself nominated for Governor when Gov. Francis' term expires. His speech was admitted by all to have been the best of the convention and he certainly created a splendid impression. His zeal for his candidate commanded the admiration of all, and during the convention and since it has adjourned there has been much mention of him as a probable successor of the present Governor.

School Elections. To-day was the day set for holding the special school elections in the First and Fourth Districts to choose successors to Mr. Bollman, resigned, and Mr. Reimler, deceased man, resigned, and Mr. Reimler, deceased. Owing to the fact that the board failed to select judges and clerks, however, the elections were not held. The elections were estied by the Miller faction of the board, and inasmuch as their right to exercise such authority was disputed in the courts shortly after their action had been taken, it was deemed proper by them to defer the appointment of judges and clerks until after the dourt's decision and thus insure that the public would not be put to any unnecessary expense in case until after the court's decision and thus insure that the public would not be put to any unnecessary expense in case the court should decide against them after the election had been held, and by so doing render a new election necessary. As the court still has the case in charge no judges or cierks were appointed and the election which was to have taken place to-day consequently goes by default. A new call will probably be made by the board to-night and the date selected will probably be July 7. This will give plenty of time for the filing of nominations as provided by the Australian election system and also the publication of the same, and, moreover, as the regular July meeting of the board occurs on July 8, the elected members can take their seats the day following the election. It is owing more to these elections that the Aulerites had about made up their minds to-day to go to the meeting this evening than to anything else. They are confident that they can elect members in both districts, but are afraid that if the districts are left longer without representation because of their failure to attend the meeting they will lose many friends.

"You are charged with trespassing," said the Judge, as he looked at him over his spectacles. "Tell us about it."

Peter then told a tale of misfortune and woe. He said he lived at the house of his mother, Mrs. Coles, at Sixth street and O'Falion. He had been married for some time but his wife could not agree with her mother-in-iaw and continual spats compelled them to separate. Finally, he went to live at his mother's house and his wife obtained lodgings elsewhere. They had not seen each other for some time until last evening when Peter embarked on a quiet little spree. He was overcome by the heat and the bad whiskey which he imbibed, and finally succumbed after finding a cool place in the gutter about two blocks from his home.

His wife came along the sidewalk and observed her lord and master comfortably snoring in the mud. With a few pokes she succeeded in arousing him and he recognized her. Then she decided to get him home. She tugged and pulled and boosted and finally got nim on a pair of very unsteady legs and they started for the residence of the elder Mrs. Coles. They entered the yard without mishap, but before they got to the house Peter again collapsed, all tugging and boosting was in vain, and finally his belopmate got him into the barn, where a pillow was made for his head with some gunny sacks, then she estaid and watched by him so that the horses would not step on him.

In the morning Mrs. Cole the elder, came to the stable. She saw the couple there and had them arrested for trespass.
"I'll fine you $10 each, but will stay it on good behavior," said the Judge, and they went out of the court-room together.

Nobody noticed the defect until the clerks in the Secretary of State's office began to make certified copies. Then the clause in the "original" was tacked on and the clerks were instructed to keep still about it. Why so important an error was not made known to the newspaper men daily visiting the office is not explained, but presumably the fact that the bill has passed the ordeal of Executive chamber inspection was enough to prevent further comment. much blame rests upon a citizen, and not upon the Census Supervisor or his enumerators.

"From the outset I stated that there would be trouble about getting the census in boarding-houses," is a remark credited to Maj. Weigel, and that trouble was to be overcome by leaving one blank where there were thirty-five people, without any inquiry or attempt to find out how many people were in the house. The work of enumerating THE BOARDING-HOUSES has been lett, so far as can be learned, entirely to the boarding-house keepers and not in but one instance that has been heard of has a census enumerator attempted to do more than leave a blank for the house-keeper to fill up, requiring them and sometimes under threats of fines to do the work for which they received pay. At some boarding houses they have not even left blanks. In one on Fourteenth street and Lucas place there are thirty-five people living, but no enumerator has been there nor have any blank been left. In whatever district a search is made people are found who have not been counted, and the statement that none of the cases reported were founded on facts is simply absurd. Fifteen cases were voluntarily reported at Maj. Weigel's office yesterday. Maj. a gentieman fertile in resources, and has provided himself with still another string to his bow. When the enumerators discover an old soldier, they are provided with a supplemental schedule, in which is set forth at the details of his service. The value of such a schedule does not require to be explained to any pension agent. For making out this list the pay of the enumerator is increased from 2 to 5 cents. When the question of listing farm mortgages was under discussion in Congress, Mr. Porter stated that the collection and tabulation of these statistics would cost $1,000,000. According to his estimate there were $5,000,000 farmers to be interrogated, and the cost of scheduling was estimated at $350,000. This was universally supposed to mean that the enumerators would be allowed extra compensation for obtaining full information in relation to farm mortgages, as they have been in the case of old soldiers. But Porter, although he had practically agreed to do this, refused to put a premium on extra diligence, drew up no special form schedule and allowed no extra compensation. The animus of the head of the consus bureau is apparent to the most unobservant, and his determination to give his individual wishes precedence over the direct instructions of Congress has aroused no small degree of indignation.

A Great Scheme Put Up by the Sprinkling Contractors.

They Scared Joseph From Municipal Bone and Now Look at Them.

ling the Streets in the Six Relinquished Districts-Indications That a Combine Has Been Fermed-The Beard Will Probably Reject All Bids-City Ball

the association that has so long been waging such a fierce and unrelenting warfage against D. L. Joseph and his St. Louis Improved Street Sprinkling Co. have forfelted their last claim on public sympathy. No other evidence is necessary to establish this evidence is necessary to establish this fact than the astonishing array of facts and figures developed this afternoon when the Board of Public Improvements opened and canvassed the bids for sprinkling the six districts forfeited by the St. Louis Improved Co. a few weeks ago. The amounts asked by the association contractors in their bids fairly made the heads of the board members swim when the pro-posals were taken out of the box and read early this afternoon. The commissioners were disposed, after looking at the bids, to reach the conclusion that Manager Joseph, with all the fauits of his sprinkling system, with all the faults of his sprinkling system, was a public benefactor compared with the members of the Sprinklers' Association.

The Board advertised for bids ten weeks ago, after the St. Louis Company was forced to concentrate its carts in the other districts and surrender six lying in the southern part of the city. These districts were taken at the annual letting last February at low figures by the St. Louis Company, and when the CLD CONTRACTORS said the work could not be done for such a price, Joseph replied that he could do it and make money. The other districts taken by his company were at figures in the same proportion.

The contracts last February were let for the season commencing March 15 and extending to December 1 a period of eight and one-half months. The bids of the St. Louis Company for the six districts relet to-day, were as follows:

Joseph Schroll.

to make the hair of the board members stand on end.

The oid contractors, judging from their bids, have thrown down the bars and proclaimed that they have combined to take advantage of the city. They had the assurance when the bids were requested that the St. Louis Co. would not bid, and knowing they had a clear field, went in with the determination of capturing big game. That such was their intention can be seen by the absurdly high figures they ask. Their action will very probably have the effect of inducing the Board of Public Improvements to carry out Mayor Noonan's idea. When the extra aprinklers demanded $10 per day for their carts when they were needed in an emergency the Mayor refused positively to deal with them and at the same time suggested the advisability of their city buying and operating its own sprinkling carts.

hen each bid was opened and canvassed When each bid was opened and enavassed the board referred the whole matter to the Committee on Sprinkling. This committee can recommend the rejection of the bids, and this will it is understood be the substance of its report and the board will then pass upon the report. It is the impression that the board will REJECT THE BIDS and endeavor to get carts elsewhere to sprinkle the districts. If this is not done some arrangement may be made with the West End Sprinkling Co., which is not connected with the combine.

Friends of the St. Louis Improved Street Sprinkling Co. are disposed to take the view

Friends of the St. Louis improved Street Sprinkling Co. are disposed to take the view that the demands of the association sprink-lers is a vindication of the company, and they claim that the Association interfered with Joseph's company at every stars, and resorted to tricks that were unfair in order to create a feeling against the concern that secured the bulk of the con-tracts at the annual letting. Manager Joseph tracts at the annual letting. Manager Joseph expresses himself in the same strain.

A Big Victory for the City.

The ejectment case of Mrs. Rita J. Wilkinson against the city of St. Louis, which was deeided vesterday by the Supreme Court of Mis sourl in favor of the city, is one of the most sourl in favor of the city, is one of the most important of the many legal victories gained by the city in the courts and establishes the fitte of the city to 5800,000 worth of property in the south wharf. The case was bestided in 1878 by John F. Darby and on his tain the fitte of the city to 5800,000 worth of property in his south wharf. Darby and on his tain the fitter of the city of 580, has been tried four times in the Circuit Court. Many of the old inhabitants of St. Louis who testified in court are dead, among them Siles Deat, Waiter C. Carr. William H. Cozens and others. Back to 1819, is still living. The property in dispute was the south wharf, between the sile and that Joseph Bracau as granted a tract of ten arpents from north to south, on the Missianippi Rivyer. In 1876, by the Spanish Claimed that Joseph Bracau and wife the property passed to his nices. To-night the Council will act on the Lohrum appointment and the friends of the Mayor and the appointee generally say that they will be surprised if it is confirmed. At no time since the appeintment was submitted has Mr. Lohrum's friends appeared sanguine of the approval of his nomination. To-day they say it is extremely doubtful if seven members can be persuaded to support a motion to confirm the nomination. The Mayor declines to discuss the probable action of the Council further than that he is asking no favors from the Republican members of that body. He says Mr. Lohrum was appointed after his qualifications had been considered, and that he did not conclude to send in his name until he was satisfied that he would make a good commissioner. To-night the Council will act on the Lohrum

he was satisfied that he would make a good commissioner.

There is still considerable speculation as to how Councilman Ganabi will vote. He opposed the nomination of Mr. Brennan on the ground that he did not possess the necessary qualifications and many believe that he will vote against Lohrum for the same reason. Still there are others who say Mr. Ganahi is indebted to Lohrum for political favors and may vote for his confirmation with interest. There will be a strong degree of interest centered in his vote this evening, if the Council, as is generally believed, acts on the appointment.

If the expected happens and the nomination is rejected the Mayor will, unless he changes what is generally understood to be his programme, send in the name of William Cullinane, a livery stable keeper and undertaker, who stands well in the Mayor's estimation.

The common impression at the City Hall this afternoon is that Mr. Lohrum's nomination will be rejected by this vote: Ayes, Messrs. Rohas, Sioan, Bensiek, Hoolan, Vogel and Comfort.

McNamara, Anthony McDonnell and Hiram H. Stiebel and all the outgoing members were elected by a Democratic Council, while a Republican body will select their successors. It is given out on good authority that the four to be selected to night will go in the board with the understanding that they will vote for the candidacy of W. H. Osmer, the present Assistant Secretary of the Council, who aims to succeed Secretary John D. Finney, who has efficiently discharged the duties of that important place for the past three years. Up to Friday afternoon last it was understood that the msjority in the Council had agreed upon Matt Kohring of the Eighth District, Peter Banchein; for the Tenth and J. Will Barron and Jere Murphy for the Ninth District, all active Republican politicians. It is now claimed that Jere Murphy was dropped from the slate because he declined to go in the board for the express purpose of dispensing an efficient officer to make room for Osmer, whose only claim to celebrity lies in his political pull in North St. Louis. The place occupied by Murphy on the siate will, it is understood, be given to a Republican who will agree to vote for a Bepublican for Secretary. Hiram H. Stiebel

In the absence of President George Burne who is in Springfield, Mo., on per sonal business, the meeting of the Board of Public Improvements the Board of Public Improvements the morning was presided over by Sewer Corunissioner McMath, the senior member. An ordinance was presented by Commissioner McMath for the construction of the main sewer and branches in Vandeventer sewer district No. 4. This district embraces a territory of some 600 acres, bounded by Taylor and Vandeventer avenues, McPherson and Kennerly avenues. The estimated cost of the work is given by Mr. McMath at $200,000. The board adopted the ordinance and recommended its passage to the Municipal Assembly.

The Southern Street Railway Co. submitted the plans for that portion of its electric road on Jefferson avenue between Arsenal and Keokuk streets. The plans showed the proposed location of the poles and wires. The board approved the plans and the company will proceed at once to complete that portion of its new system.

Harbor Commissioner Murphy is busily engaged compiling from the official records of the War Department, all the facts in regard to the obstructions in Cahokfa Chute, which have resulted in temporarily attaching a portion of Arsenal Island to the Illinois shore. Mayor Noonan has expressed a desire to visit the chute at a lower stage of water, as it has been stated that at a 10-foot stage on the Government gauge there is no current and no channel to be found between the island and the main shore.

AN EARLY MORNING SCENE,

The Excitement a Discarded Woman Created on Garrison Avenue and Olive Street, The neighborhood of Garrison avenue and Olive street was thrown into a state of excitement about 1 o'clock this morning by woman's screams, which emanated from the house No. 29311/2 Olive street. This house is occupied by Mrs. Sexton, and quite a little scene was being enacted there. It appears that Richard M.
Avis, a locomotive engineer well known in this city, came there with his wife to board a short time ago. Mrs. Avis is a very estimable lady who was married to Avis last August at Springfield, Mo. Recently he brought her here to go undermedical treatment, her health being poor. Three days ago she became a mother. It seems that previous to his marriage Avis lived for four or five years with a woman, and when she learned that he had been married and was living at Mrs. Sexton's with his wife, she determined to visit him.
About 1 o'clock this morning she rangthe door-bell, and when Mrs. Sexton admitted her she proceeded to Avis' room and attempted to attack his wife who lay there on a sick bed. Mrs. Avis' infant lay beside her, and when the infuriated woman made a rush for the wife of her old love the mother was fearful lest some harm should come to her child. She screamed and aroused the whole neighborhood. Avis kept the woman from reaching his wife and ejected her from the house. She had not succeeded in striking Mrs. Avis, but the latter is very much worse to-day as a result of the excitement. The affair is the tatk of the neighborhood to-day. enacted there. It appears that Richard M

Only four out of all the jurors examined were unmarried. There were a few merchants and mechanics among them but the proportion was very small.

Mr. B. M. Chambers was smiling and pleasant when he arrived on the train at 1:30. He went direct to the Court-house and sat through the whole afternoon session. He will occupy a cottage for the present some distance from the Court-house, where his relatives will be with him. The Big Strike of the New York Cleak Makers.

New York, June 17 .- The big strike of cloak and operators is on. Nearly 10,000 men and cloak manufacturing trade is practically at a standstill. It was predicted yesterday that unless a satisfactory settlement could be reached between the locked-out cloak cutters and the manufacturers the workmen in other departments would quit work. Last night they notified their employers that they would not return to work until the difficulty with the cutters had been adjusted. The strikers have concluded to have nothing to do with the State Board of Arbitration and Mediation. They allegs they are strong enough to fight their own battles without outside interference. There will be a meeting of the cloak manufacturers at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The dissatisfaction in the ranks of Knights of Labor is on the increase. The cloakmakers' lockout, it is asserted, is only the beginning of a general strike which will in magnitude eclipse anything of the kind known in this city. Quite a number of Italian tallors left their shops this morning and many more are expected to strike to-morrow. between the looked-out cloak

An Old Case Settled.

The case of the Pacific Express Co. against R. I. Ostrander was settled yesterday in Judge Kieln's court. It will be remembered that four years ago some bogus bars were substituted, while in transit, for some of solid silver. The statement was made that the bars had been sold at Ostrander's store has searched, but none of the bars were found there. At his trial Ostrander won, but the case was taken to the Supreme Court. Yesterday it was settled and the express company will pay costs.

BARNYARD LITIGATION. Dairyman Robbins Suing for the Loss of His Dogs-Court News.

An amusing suit to recover the value of three dogs is in progress of trial before Judge Kieln this afternoon. William Robbins is a dairyman and has a farm near Tower dairyman and has a farm near Tower Grove Park. His neighbors are Mr. and Mrs. Edward and Anne Erie. Mr. Erie is a paper carrier and has chickens in his yard. Mr. Robbins kept dogs to aid him in herding the cows and one of them was a valuable shepherd dog. Tha dogs roamed at will over the country thereabouts, and for weeks prior to last August Mr. Robbins received complaints from his neighbors saying the dogs were chasing and killing chickens. He could not prevent it, he claimed, but the neighbors said they could. One morning Mr. Robbins missed his shepherd dog, valued at $200. His body was found several days later in a ditch near by. A few days later Mr. Robbins missed his splitz dog which he kept on his milk wagon, when delivering his goods. It was not long before his poodle dog disappeared deaving the dairy without a dog. All this time Mr. Robbins suspected the Erie family of killing the dogs and when the last canine disappeared, he entered suit against Mr. and Mrs. Erie for $275. Mr. Erie claims he lost six turkeys, two goese and twenty chickens which were killed by Robins' dogs. but as to turkeys, two goese and twenty chickens which were killed by Robins' dogs, but as to the dogs he does not know what became of them. which they treated them.

Bob Youngbled was cut on the right side of the head last evening about 7 o'clock by an unknown man near the Klausmann brewery. Youngbled was walking leisurely along Broadway, and when near the bridge was assaulted by the man, who is entirely a stranger in these parts, with a huge knife. Youngbled was taken to the office of Dr. Sellner where this injury was dressed. Dr. Sellner claims that if the man had cut one-third of an inch deeper Youngbled would have been killed. As it is the wound is a serious one.

Special to John P. Grier.
CHICAGO. Juns 17.—The wheat market opened rather quies, with a light trade and on the anneuncement of a failure here sold as low as 85kgc. From this point the advance was slow, but the good general buying kept it going and we close at about t e top-85kge for July. The efferings have been light throughout the session and the market looks as if the floating surplus had been aboorbed and well cared for. The reports from the Northwest continue good, but the winter wheat does not improve. The time is near at hand for scarce to the growing spring wheat, and if any come, as iney surely will, we will have better prices. Buy it on all weak apots.

morning. Stocks sold freely and prices had a strong upward tendency.

Several excellent reports have lately been received from the American and Nettle, but the stock has generally refused to respond, transfers were small in amount and prices showed no material alteration. To-day, however, proved to be exceptional, as the transfers were large and the price advanced. Supt. Dunham reports that on June 12 a body of ore was struck near the wings, assays from which, taken from 25 sacks, gave 35 cunces of gold and 188 cunces of silver. The ore body has not been fully developed, but is apparently large. Four cars previously shipped yielded $7,000 nst, and another carload of ore is on hand which it is believed will run $3,500. A large working capital is in the treasury, and it is believed that dividends will soon be paid. The stock opened at $1.95 bid, but soon advanced to $2. A large block of stock was sold at this figure, 1,200 shares changing hands, but buyers were ready so take more, and the market closed at $2 bid, $2.03½ asked.

Mickey Breen was in strong demand and advanced sharply in price. The market opened at $1.024 and sales aggregating 800 shares were made. Buyers were anxious to obtain more at this figure, but holders were firm, and it was not until $1.05 had been offered that any more stock came out. At that price 200 shares changed hands, and 200 shares sold at $1.0745, the market closing at $1.0742 asked, $1.05 bid. Reports from the mine state that the one taken out is improving in quality; that work on the mill is rapidly progressing and that before autumn it will be in working order.

Zuma is gradually regaining the ground re-cently lost. This morning 500 shares sold at 614, after which the price dropped back to 60, at which figure 200 shares changed hands.

It was voted this morning that the after-noon call should be suspended during the week. The following quotations were made on call this morning:

Everything was quiet and orderly until late in the afternoon when some drunken negroes caused several distorbances. Chas. Goans struck Town Attorney Will S. Bodley in the head with a brick while he was trying to suppress a quarrel. Mr. Bodley seized a railroad coupling pin and made for him, but the negro cut and run. He was chased for two miles by Town Marshal Phil thur, but he get away. Henry Hays, ex-Marshal, was struck and knocked down by a negro named Henry Admathy. August Hegge, son of Judge Hegge, was very much excited over the election, and expressed his opinion of the town authorities so vigorously that he was arrested for discurbing the peace. T. The Preject to Build a Great Transcenti nental Railway.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. CHICAGO, Ill., June 17 .- Louis Huller, frequently referred to as the Jay Gould of Mexico, is in this city, on his way home from Europe, where he has been for six months. Speaking yesterday of the proposed railroad to connect all the countries on the American continent, Mr. Huller said:

"The scheme is feasible on one condition, namely, that the undertaking is financially backed by the governments of the various countries through which the road will pass, but not otherwise. Were all the countries like the United States or even like Mexico there would be no hesitancy on the part of private capital to embark in the scheme, but unfortunately this is not the case; many thousands of miles of country through which the road would pass are either uninhabited or useless, so far as receiving revenues from passengers or freight is concerned. Of courset the building of the road would sow the seeds of industries, but many years would have to elapse before there would be a harvest from such farming, and private capital is not inclined to wait so long. But I suppose in time such a road will be built and it will have government beking." "The scheme is feasible on one condition

A BREAK EXPECTED.

The Strike of the Railroad Yardmen at Cleveland, O.

CLEVELAND, O., June 17 .- The strike last evening was brought about by the Cleveland & Pittsburg and Nickel Plate yardmen, who succeeded in getting the other roads out with them. The Big Four and the Erie manager tried to head off a strike by advancing wager to the Lake Shore rate, but did not succeed Only one-half of the strikers belong to the union, and those who do are in the move-ment under a sort of protest. This fact causes the managers to expect a break in the ranks. The leaders of the strike declare that both divisions of the Lake Shore between this point and Buffalo and the Cleveland divisions of all the other roads will be tied up if neces-sary to aid the strike. Shippure are in a panie. Some of the yards are already full of cars and trains are being side tracked along the roads to prevent a blockade.

Kerr's Easy Defeat of Pettit, From the New York Sun of June 12. The match for the lawn tennis championship of the world between Pettis and Kerr, the well-known Irish professional and teacher of the Fitzwilliam Club, Dublin, was concluded at Dublin this evening. Heavy rain had spoiled the ground, rendering the new pitch necessary, and there were few apectators at the close of the play. Yesterday Kerr led with two matches to nil, six sets to three, and 49 games to 34. Commencing on these terms to-day, Petiti won the first two games, but it was obvious that Kerr was letting him down gently, playing softly to his forehand. This was emphasized the more by Kerr making a sequence of four games which included two love games. Petiti reached 4 to 5 before Kerr won the first set by 6 to 4. Kerr won the second set by 6 to 4 and the third by the same, and this ended the contest, the final score being:

President Soden of the Boston League Club does not take a very optimistic view of the bail situation. He, in fact, thinks that a bail situation. He, in fact, thinks that a crisis is imminent. He says:

"I cannot see how any club in the whole country can be making any money except possibly the local Brotherhood club. Even here the combined attendance at our grounds does not equal the attendance at our grounds last year. It is only a question of time when a good many directors will keep up putting their hands in ther pockets for money through pride, but none of them will do it very much longer if the present lack of interest continues. The division of interest has killed the game. Several clubs in both leagues are ready to drop dead. The clubs in Pittsburg, Cleveland and Buffalo were never able to make money when hase ball interest was at its height. How they can make any this year I cannot see. There will be much more money sunk by each league this year than there was made last year. Indeed, Boston and New York alone made any money last year. I don't think it would help the matter at all if either league were to adopt a non-conflicting schedule. Interest outside of Boston seems dead and it would do no good. People used to talk base ball when I went in to see them on business there; now it is the last subject mentioned. It is just so here. No one comes in here and talks base ball the way they did last year. I have little curiosity myself even as to what the relative standing of the clubs may be. Only one league can live and make money; it is a question yes which will die." crisis is imminent. He says:

Lorillard's Love of the Turf.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. NEW YORK, June 17 .- A morning paper says: It is amusing to note the rapt admiration of Pierre Lorillard for his love, the turf. Once in a while the master of Rancocas writes a letter to the newspapers protesting that he does not bet more than $500 on a race, and doubt less this is true, but it should be remembered that Mr. Lorillard plays what are technically known as short horses. A short horse always has a long price. Mr. Lorillard is nothing if not enthusiastic, and it is due to his unquestionable enthusiasm that he attained his former great figure in the racing world. A sudden formers great ngure in the world. A sudden foundness for yachting, and later on a complete absorption in Tuxedo, caused Mr. Lorliard some years ago to lose his faith in mankind in general and racing in particular. He left the turf with as much precipitancy as he had gone on it, but it was impossible for him to keep entirely away from his old love. He is the Impossible for him to keep entirely away from his old love. He is the popular ideal of a racing man—big, breezy, handsome, well-dressed, friendly and strictly reliable. His stable has aiways been run on principles of absolute integrity. This year hir. Lorillard has been on the track morning, noon and night. He talks horse until midnight, and is the first man around the following morning. A good many men have tried to get away from the fascination of racing, but the majority of them do not make any more success than has distinguished Mr. Lorillard's recent efforts. The public is to be congratulated upon the return of an old-timer in this instance.

The Sport Was Poor. The crowd was large at the Fair Grounds yesterday, but the racing was below par, in fact it was about the poorest ever seen in St.

He was taken last night to the insane hospital at Wauwatosa. Some days ago his friends saw he was suffering from what they thought to be a slight aberration of the mind, and he was sent to Gogebic to rest. He returned Sunday, and yesterday, while taking a ride with his nurse, he suddenly became violent, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the nurse got him to the jail, where it required a dozen men to centrol nim. His railroad associates express the opinions that his trouble was caused by overwork and that it is only a temporary affliction.

FRANCE'S CONTROL OF FISHING ALONG 900 MILES OF COAST.

War-Factories Running in Defiance of

Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH NEW YORK, June 17 .- A Herald correspondent t St. George Bay writes; I have I ust reached this out-of-the-way place after a 600-mile voyage on the steame from St. Johns, at the other end of the island of Newfoundland. This is a quiet little fishing village, now known all over the world as the scene of the recent troubles between the French and resident fishermen, threatening a war. Slighter causes have led Great Britain into war before this, and if she is slow to resent the injury to the property of her subjects now, it is probably because she must see what a gigan tic blunder the treaty of Utrecht was, giving, as it does, France control of fishing along 900 away the livelihood of many British subjects. the home country than against France. This is because of the apathy in trying to modify the fishery treaty or at least to compel France to adhere strictly to it. All is quiet here now, and for the present season, so far as St. George is concerned, the crisis is over. The French fishing vessels have all gone and the native are left to fish in peace. There are no French war ships in the harbor, the Pelican, a British war ship, Capt. Riddle, being the only one here. THE THREATENED LOBSTER WAR, which was feared as the next trouble, will probably not occur this season. Capt. Sir Saldwin Walker of the British war ship Emerald, issued orders, dated May 10, at Halifax that all lobster factories opened since July last must cease work according to the terms of the modus vivendi. The Pelican arrived here May 18 and served notices to shut up the factories. There are twenty-six along the bay at St. George, all owned by British subcts. All but one or two obeyed the order but have gradually reopened, some after jects. All but one or two obeyed the order, but have gradually reopened, some after a day or two and some after a fortheath. Now nearly all are in operation in defiance of orders. There is much interregation here over the modus vivendi. Troubles are reported elsewhere. News has just reached here of an outbreak at Lascle, a small fishing village on the Northeast Coast. The inhabitants attacked a French fishing establishment consisting of bateaux or fishing boats, net sheds, drying fakes and other property left by fishing schooners since last year. They set fire to the place and destroyed the property. Majstrates were powerless to interfere. The people are not violent, but are determined in their opposition to French interference with the fishing, which is

THE FROFIE'S ONLY LIVELIHOOD. The French fishing vessels have not arrived at Lascle for the season's work, and the property destroyed was not valuable, but the occurrence is significant as showing the intense feeling of the natives against the French. Newfoundland fishermen are remarkably orderly and law-abiding, and it is only under great stress that they commit overt acts. Lascle is several hundred miles from here, beyond the telegraph. The outbreak occurred may lb, and the news has just bees brought in by a fishing boat. Quite likely similar affairs have occurred around the north and east coast and the northern half of the west ceast, where there is not elegraph, but it may be weeks before a chance fishing boat brings in the news. It is not likely that France will make any Declared for Prohibition. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 17 .- The Unite Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, at miles of the Newfoundland coast and taking its session yesterday, took a firm stand on the question of temperance by adopting a series language, committing the entrologes sort of language, committing the church as a whole to the prohibition cause. The action is considered remarkable, as the Scandinavian and other foreign elements have been regarded as opposed to prohibition in every shape. This stand will materially affect politics in the Northwest.
